Non-Union Miners Go To Work Under Guard

Openly Defy UMW Strike, J. L. Lewis

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27—(AP)—Non-union bituminous mines guarded heavily by gun muzzles and state police went back into production in western Pennsylvania today — openly defying John L. Lewis' striking United Mine Workers.

The five-county Clearfield area northeast of Pittsburgh took on the semblance of an armed camp. Rifles, shotguns and pistols bristled at pit openings as pickets roamed the countryside. Some roads leading to workings were mined with dynamite.

State police reinforcements, rushed in after pleas for help to Governor James H. Duff, swiftly arrested 17 pickets in a drive to ward off violence. No disorders developed.

The region became a powder keg in the nationwide "no pension no work" walkout of Lewis' 480,000 diggers. The nine-day-old strike developed from suspension of UMW welfare fund payments because Lewis claims southern operators shut off 20-cent a ton royalty payments in their fight with the UMW chief over a new contract.

As the strike rolled on with no indication of early settlement, these other developments dotted the picture across the country:

1. Sheriff Bryant A. Nelson called for state aid in Utah to prevent possible clashes between strikers and residents of Emery county. Pickets halted travel on every road leading to non-union mines.

2. A picketed coal mine at Pinckneyville, Ill., closed after disputed reports of violence. Sheriff Tom O'Keefe said 40 UMW strikers had picketed non-unionists at a strip of surface project. Three trucks hauling coal were reported beaten.

3. Ohio had motorized bands of miners continuing to close strip mines after roving bands forced trucks to dump coal loads.

4. Picketing of non-union workings occurred anew in West Virginia. The Kanawha county school board stopped its school bus run near Charleston due to possibility of fighting between pickets and non-union diggers.

Some 1,100 non-union Pennsylvania workers went back to the coal beds in the Clearfield area where 35 operations reopened. The pits closed last week due to picketing by unionized bands. Some arrests developed on riot charges.

State police put 140 troopers into the area for resumption of work. Mine guards carried rifles and shotguns. They paced near entrances of mine pits or stalked in underbrush.

Pickets appeared in scores of winding roads skirting workings without trying to interfere. Police patrols trailed them, dispersing some and bringing others to a halt for inspection.

Mystery Of Hand Sticking From Car Trunk Is Solved

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 27—(AP)—There was a person's hand sticking out of the car trunk ahead of him as he drove through town this noon, the fellow told Police Chief George Gebhard.

So Gebhard sent an alarm out to other law officials in the area about a certain black automobile.

Nothing happened for a couple of hours or until every one in town heard about it, the chief said. Then Vernon Geissler, a mechanic, solved the whole thing by explaining that the mysterious hand was his.

He said he had been riding in the trunk of a customer's car. Not that he thought the trunk especially adapted for riding but he wanted to locate a rattling noise in the car's rear end.

Fortwith, Gebhard said, he called the alarm off and announced the mystery solved.

Forest Fires Blaze In Far West States

By The Associated Press

Forest fires blazed yesterday (Tuesday) in parts of California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho. At least one fire fighter was killed.

Thousands of acres of brush, timber and watershed were scorched. Hundreds of men including federal, state and local forest crews and marines fought the flames.

A logging camp boss, James B. Zachary, 41, was killed when a tractor rolled over on him near Molalla, Ore.

An ocean fog relieved the menace to the Oregon coastal towns of Cannon Beach and Toiyana Park. Fire fighters said the fog enabled them to get the fire "in hand" if not "under control."

Approximately 80 persons were evacuated Monday night from homes west of McMinnville, Ore., as three fires converged. One house burned. Smoke was so heavy in western Oregon and Washington that it hampered airplane spotting of fires. More than 10,000 acres were ablaze in the two states including 3,000 acres south of Grande Ronde, Ore.

The season's largest fire in southern California raged out of control over nearly 8,000 acres in the rugged San Bernardino mountains. This blaze approached within three miles of numerous resorts on the north fork of Lytle creek. Lightning started the fire last Wednesday.

In the northern California High Sierra a fire in Tahoe National forest, which approached Truckee, Calif., was on the verge of being controlled because the wind subsided.

Idaho fire fighters said most of 51 fires started by lightning in the Payette and Boise National forests were controlled. Trouble spots included Cuddy mountain, 14 miles northwest of Council, Ida.

The Browns creek fire 60 miles north of Boise and a blaze on Hally creek eight miles northeast of Garden in the two states including 3,000 acres.

Benefits Approved By Steel Board To Be Given By Ford

Detroit, Sept. 27—(AP)—A top Ford Motor Co. official said tonight the company would give its 115,000 workers as much in economic benefits as the presidential fact-finding board recommended for the steel industry—but no more.

Executive Vice-President Ernest R. Breech made the comment in a speech at Youngstown, Ohio, while negotiators tried here to head off a possible Ford strike a little over 24 hours away.

The steel panel recommended a "package" increase of up to 10 cents an hour in the form of pensions and insurance. It suggested that the employer's cost of any such plan now in effect be deducted from the total.

Breech, second in the company only to Henry Ford II, addressed the Industrial Information Institute, Inc. He described the effects of the steel board's recommendations as "inescapable." Thus, he said, Ford decided to offer the CIO-United Auto Workers a pension plan despite "many reservations about the philosophy" behind the finding.

But company heads decided, he added, that "we would under no circumstances enter into an agreement which called for an expenditure on our part of the greater number of net cents per hour than the ceiling set by the fact-finding board."

Dr. Harold Hillenbrand of Chicago said England's national health service act requires that local health authorities make priority arrangements for dental treatment of expectant and nursing mothers and pre-school children.

"Insofar as this priority of treatment has been established, insofar as previous existing facilities for giving priority care have deteriorated and insofar as there seems to be little present hope of living up to the optimistic priority of the act, the dental program in Great Britain can be said fairly to be a failure."

Dr. Hillenbrand, who recently returned from England where he studied operation of that country's national health service act, said the amount of dental research conducted in that country is almost negligible.

The bureau said fall plowing was being retarded in some northern places by lack of rain.

There has been scattered picking of corn for feed and to open up fields. From 40 to 60 per cent of soybeans already are combined in some midstate areas, and combining is progressing well in other localities.

The bureau said fall plowing was being retarded in some northern places by lack of rain.

Truman Says His Critics 160 Years Behind The Times

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—President Truman today scoffed at critics of his domestic program, saying they are "just about 160 years behind the times."

Launching a drive for women recruits for the Democratic party, the president said in a White House radio broadcast there are "certain people" who denounce his fair deal policies as "alien or dangerous."

But he told his listeners: "Our program is unshakably founded on the principle that the power of the government should be used to promote the general welfare."

Mr. Truman's 10-minute talk highlighted a program of "democratic women's day" ceremonies marking the anniversary of the date in 1919 when the democratic national committee voted to admit women to its executive committee.

Mr. Truman sounded a campaign-like pledge to press for congressional action on better housing, more schools, improved medical care, greater social security benefits and other objectives of the 1948 democratic platform.

Woman, Not Sure She Was Pregnant, Dies With Quads

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—A woman who wasn't sure she was pregnant was dead today with her newborn quadruplets.

The last survivor — a tiny girl whose weight was estimated at not much more than a pound—died in an incubator at 2 p.m. central standard time today. Doctors had given her only a 50-50 chance to pull through.

The babies were born three to four months prematurely.

The mother, Mrs. Bernice Ecker, 33, gave birth to the babies last night in Holy Cross hospital. She was rushed there by her brother, Francis Fitzgerald, 30, who was visiting at his sister's home.

Mrs. Ecker's husband, Vernon, a truck driver, was at work. He did not know for sure Mrs. Ecker was expecting and had planned to take her to a doctor Friday to find out.

Mrs. Ecker has two daughters and a son by a previous marriage.

The first two babies, a boy and girl, were born at 8:55 and 9 p.m. central standard time. The boy died at 7 a.m. today. Another boy was still born at 9:10 p.m. a second girl, born at 9:15 p.m., died at 11:48 p.m., six minutes after the death of her mother.

Hay Fever Drugs Newest Medicine For Common Colds

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—The medicines you take in the summer for hay fever are the newest remedies for winter colds.

This winter they will receive their third common-cold-season tryouts. They are the antihistamines, which are a numerous group of drugs good for hay fevers and itches and other allergies.

Three doctors have reported this year that these drugs, if taken early in a cold, may cure it quickly or shorten the misery.

Dr. John S. Gordon, Charlotte, N.C., reported that use of antihistamine drugs on 500 students last year resulted in eight per cent of colds seemingly gone and 85 per cent more comfortable and shorter.

In January this year, and again in May, Capt. John M. Brewster, U.S. Navy, now at Corpus Christi, Tex., naval hospital, reported 90 per cent cures when the antihistamine drugs were given within the first hour after a common cold showed up.

The percentage dropped rapidly with delays longer than an hour. After the first day the hay fever drugs had little effect on common colds. Brewster's work was on 572 cold patients.

Father Of Slain Boy Sobs As He Identifies Clothes

Joliet, Sept. 27—(AP)—The father of a slain boy sobbed today as he identified the dead child's overalls during the opening day of the murder trial of 14-year-old Diana Allen.

Eric Johnson's sorrow on the witness stand for the drowned Charles—known as Snooky—was echoed by muffled weeping of the seven-year-old child's mother in the back of the courtroom.

James W. Faulkner indicated during questioning by prospective jurors that he might ease his defense on the contention that Diana could not tell right from wrong when the slaying took place.

Illinois Power Co. Increases Regular Dividend Payments

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 27—(AP)—Illinois Power company directors today increased its regular quarterly dividend payment and voted to sell up to an additional 239,601 shares of common stock.

The dividend payment will be 55 cents a share, payable Nov. 1 to shareholders of record Oct. 10. The former rate was 50 cents a quarter.

Neither the price nor offer date of the new stock issue was decided, but will be determined by market conditions. President Van Allen Wyck said.

Funds derived from the stock sale will be used to finance the balance of the company's construction program through the year 1953, he added. This is designed to boost the company's generating capacity from 160,000 kilowatts to 317,000 kilowatts, with an expenditure of about $68,000,000 between Aug. 31 this year and the end of 1953.

The program includes completion of the power plant at Wood River, Ill.; addition of two units to the Havana, Ill., power station, and completion of a unit of a proposed new station on the Illinois river at Hennepin, Ill.

Steel Negotiators Emerge Tight Lipped

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27—(AP)—Negotiators trying to head off a nationwide steel strike held their first two and one-half hour meeting in New York. There was no amplification of the announcement.

If some agreement is not reached by Friday midnight on whether the industry alone should pay for pensions and insurance, the nation is headed for its first double-barreled coal and steel strike.

About 500,000 members of the steelworkers in steel producing plants are set to strike at 12:01 a.m. Saturday in support of demands that the steel industry adopt the recommendations of President Truman's fact finding board.

The board proposed a 10-cent hourly package, including pensions and insurance, with industry picking up the tab.

If the strike comes, it probably will spread to another half-million unionists employed in fabricating plants which use raw steel in making a great variety of finished products.

The boy's parents were instructed to pay Mrs. Brown $4.46.

Sees No Reduction In Construction Costs Very Soon

Chicago, Sept. 28—(AP)—No important reduction in construction costs is likely in the near future, a building industry official said today.

James M. Ashley, president of the Producers Council, national organization of building products manufacturers, said "rigidities in both building wages and taxes" will prevent any decline.

In a report prepared for the council's board of directors, Ashley said a considerable volume of work is in prospect in all categories of building.

That volume, he added, is awaiting "more favorable investment conditions."

He said sufficient equipment and skilled labor is available to meet any construction demand which "conceivably might arise in the future."

Police Break Up Dime Delivery Of Liquor To Students

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 27—(AP)—Decatur police have broken up a dime delivery service of liquor to high school students.

Detectives watched teen-agers slip a man the price of a bottle of beer, wine or whisky, plus his ten cent handling charge.

He was faithful in his deliveries to the kids in alleys, hours later, after they got out of school. When he got enough dimes, he used it to buy his own bottle.

Edwin Broughtman, 35, an unemployed trucker, was seized. Police said he admitted he was the curbstone broker.

He refused to plead guilty to a charge of contributing to delinquency of a minor, but did on a substitute charge of vagrancy. He got a 10 months term at the Vandalia state penal farm.

Solons Push Arms Aid Program

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—A swift step-up in American production of atomic bombs was discussed tonight as Congress pushed action on a $1,314,010,000 arms aid program to bolster non-communist nations.

At the same time, military planners were reported intent on speeding development of an atomic engine for airplanes.

There was also talk of atom-powered missiles, both for defense and offense in the event of war.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) told newsmen the Senate-Atomic committee may discuss the question of expanding American A-bomb production with members of the atomic energy commission tomorrow.

McMahon said Russia's advances in the atomic field may also lead to requests that congress provide more funds for the U.S. atomic weapons program.

Obviously spurred by news of the Soviet explosion, a Senate-Atomic committee reached final agreement on the huge global arms-aid program and prepared to rush the $1,314,010,000 legislation to the White House.

Chairman Kee (D-W.Va.) of the House foreign affairs committee said he expects to ask for a vote in the House tomorrow. Both chambers must accept the joint committee's work to clear the bill to the President.

Meanwhile, military men said efforts to develop an atom-powered airplane—capable of spanning vast distances at tremendous speed—may be expanded now that it is clear Russia has the A-bomb.

Military Represented
Some military planners were represented today as feeling that a sure means of delivering the bomb is as necessary as the bomb itself.

At the moment, nuclear energy looks like the best answer, despite the difficulty of converting it into a propulsive force.

A program to go that was begun in May, 1946, under the name nuclear energy for propulsion of aircraft, or NEPA, as an air force project.

The project has a staff of several hundred persons at Oak Ridge, Tenn., engaged mostly in developing the atomic engine theory on paper. Public statements have indicated the theory has been pretty well demonstrated. How soon it will be tested depends upon the effort made.

The NACA said only last week that 45,000 horsepower is required to drive a 25-ton plane 1,500 miles an hour at 70,000 feet. That altitude is beyond the current operational limits of jets and piston engines. The power requirements would jump to 200,000 horsepower at sea level because of the greater air resistance.

Gaines Convicted Of Second Degree Murder Of Miner

Grafton, W. Va., Sept. 27—(AP)—Charles Brennan Gaines was convicted of second degree murder today by a jury which refused to believe his story of self-defense in the slaying of James Richard Brunson.

The penalty carries a possible sentence of five to eighteen years. The jury reported after 52 minutes of deliberation. Defense Attorney W. P. Samples immediately moved to set the verdict aside, and Circuit Judge W. Merle Watkins announced arguments on the motions would be heard later at an unspecified date. Meanwhile, sentence was deferred.

Gaines, 52-year-old Flemington coal miner and the father of 10 children, admitted from the witness stand that he shot and killed Brunson on June 4, 1948. But, Gaines added, he did it in self defense.

He asserted that Brunson, a former Decatur, Ill., resident, had taken his car without permission the night before, and he bought a gun and ammunition for protection during his efforts to get it back.

EFFECT OF POUND CUT IN U. S.

The only thing sure about world monetary affairs is that nothing can be taken for granted about them; hence the difficulty the experts are having in trying to explain how Britain's devaluation of the pound will affect the U.S. In 1933, when the dollar was devalued there were dire predictions of skyrocketing prices in this country. They didn't rise at all. The results were felt entirely in the world market where our commodities benefitted.

Now after British devaluation, American dollars will buy more British goods. But the prices of all British goods bought in this country won't fall to the exact extent of the devaluation—30.5 per cent—because the list price of some goods will be raised in Britain.

Manufacturers of some U. S. goods will suffer from the intensified British competition, as will their employee. But U. S. exports will remain far in excess of imports, and Europe, if it is ever to get back on its feet, will have to sell far more to us than at present.

Increased British sales here will make possible continuing purchase of U. S. farm products. Indeed, our farm surpluses will be ruinous unless foreign countries can obtain dollars for purchasing them either by selling to us or borrowing from us. But foreign purchasers will now have to pay more for our farm goods, and unless they can get more dollars they will have to curtail their purchases.

American tourists will benefit, for these devalued currencies were held at ridiculously high values. Now your dollar will fetch more shillings and more money of all kinds. You will be able to buy a meal abroad without mortgaging your future. The British already are counting on increased American tourist trade. It seems certain to come.

Illinois Leaders Predict Unification Of Their Churches

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 27.—A unification of the Northern Baptist church and the Disciples of Christ within 10 years was predicted today by Illinois leaders of both groups.

A merger move has been afoot for several years, and slow progress is being made toward shaping of a combined organization plan to bring some 3,300,000 members of both groups into a single church system.

The Illinois divisions of both groups are holding simultaneous conventions here, and one joint session—a dinner meeting address by the Rev. Charles R. Goff, a Methodist clergyman from Chicago stressed fellowship of both congregations tonight.

However, the Rev. Irvin E. Lunger, Chicago, retiring president of the Disciples state group, said plans call for a vote by individual church congregations of both groups of unification in 1955.

Charges Against 33 Candy Firms Dismissed By U.S.

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Charges against 33 candy, gum, and confectionary firms were dropped by the Federal Trade Commission today because of flaws in its own complaints.

The complaints charged the companies with illegal discrimination in favor of some buyers. Ruling on the New England Candy Co. case, the commission found that "surplusage" and duplication in the complaint would "unreasonably" prolong the trial.

Without a dissent, it ordered this complaint dismissed and along with it, those of 32 other companies charged with substantially the same practices.

The FTC reserved the right, however, to start new actions under the Robinson-Patman anti-discrimination act based on the same rates, discounts and other allegedly improper practices.

Illinois Leaders Predict Unification Of Their Churches

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 27.—A unification of the Northern Baptist church and the Disciples of Christ within 10 years was predicted today by Illinois leaders of both groups.

A merger move has been afoot for several years, and slow progress is being made toward shaping of a combined organization plan to bring some 3,300,000 members of both groups into a single church system.

The Illinois divisions of both groups are holding simultaneous conventions here, and one joint session—a dinner meeting address by the Rev. Charles R. Goff, a Methodist clergyman from Chicago stressed fellowship of both congregations tonight.

However, the Rev. Irvin E. Lunger, Chicago, retiring president of the Disciples state group, said plans call for a vote by individual church congregations of both groups of unification in 1955.

The car that likes to be compared!
PLYMOUTH
Great Value is built into every beautiful inch of the new Plymouth. For the positive proof—compare! Put this greatest Plymouth ever built up against the other cars—feature for feature, dollar for dollar, mile for mile!
Look at all three of the leading low-priced cars. Plymouth—and only Plymouth—has the famous Air Pillow Ride—now smoother than ever.
The new, more powerful Plymouth engine has a compression ratio of 7 to 1—low-priced car "A" has 6.8 to 1—low-priced car "B" has 6.6 to 1. You get greater performance because Plymouth's higher compression squeezes more power out of every drop of gas.
Plymouth is the only low-priced car with the spectacular new double safety feature—Safety-Rim Wheels with Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes. Patented retaining humps hold the tire straight on the rim in the event of a blowout. Powerful brakes give quick, safe, accurate stops, without grabbing or biting.
These are just some of the reasons why the new Plymouth is the car that likes to be compared—not just to other low-priced cars—but even to cars costing hundreds of dollars more!
Visit your Plymouth dealer who will be glad to arrange a demonstration ride.
Of 22 quality features found in high-priced cars—the new Plymouth has 21... low-priced car "A" has 13... low-priced car "B" has 4. That's why the Plymouth today—more than ever before—is the low-priced car most like high-priced cars!

This new pattern in the Robin Hood Romper series is specially made to offer perfect foot protection and comfort for first walkers. Check these unusual style and construction features:

The protective ankle support, made in attractive pearl gray, is so designed that no seams or welts are inside the shoe to hamper foot comfort or growth.

The squared-off extension heel supplies extra balance to this shoe. This aids youngsters in walking straight, because it prevents their feet from rolling to the sides. The extra heel protection safeguards them against the danger of falling backward.

The sole is particularly flexible so that it will bend readily with the child's foot. The cushion insole adds extra comfort.

DONKEY'S HIS UNDOING

Belo Horizonte, Brazil — (AP) — Francisco de Paula, a busy little man, had a busy weekend at a brick factory, while everybody else was away. He stole 60,000 bricks, hundreds of tiles and a donkey.

Better than ants at a picnic, he carried away the bricks. Then the tiles. And then the donkey. As he led the animal away he met an old acquaintance, the policeman on the beat. Now he is resting in jail.

Care should be taken that loose automotive spring shackles are not tightened to result in a broken spring.

Pair Leaves Jail Again; This Time With Chaperones

Carrollton—Ernest Snyder and Dudley Watson, became bored with life in the Greene county jail and convinced it by spending several nights and days living in the woods before they were apprehended and returned to the jail, left again Sunday in the custody of Fred P. Staab and William E. Flor, of the Detective Bureau of Denver, for whom the men were being held in the local jail.

The two will face charges in Denver of armed robbery and car theft, and when Denver has finished with them there is still a charge against them in Missouri of burglary and larceny. They are also wanted by the FBI on the Dyer Act. In addition to these charges Sheriff Arthur Powell stated Monday that L. A. Mehrhoff, county state's attorney, is planning still another charge against the two, that of car theft and jail break in Greene county.

Three Yankees Fined For Part In Rhubarb With Umpire Grieve

New York, Sept. 27.—(P)—American League President Will Harridge today fined three New York Yankees a total of $500 for alleged mistreatment of an umpire—a move that led the pennant contenders to charge their league chief with being as wrong as the umpire involved.

Throughout the day, the repercussions resulting from yesterday's dispute over the winning run in a game which the Yankees lost to the Boston Red Sox rebounded between Harridge's Chicago office and Yankee Stadium in the Bronx.

Harridge led off by fining Yankee outfielder Cliff Mape $200 and demanding an immediate apology for remarks made to Umpire Bill Grieve.

The league head said he was advised that Mape confronted Grieve after the game and asked him "How much did you have bet on the game?" That, said Harridge, was a reflection of the umpire's honesty. He also fined Yankee Manager Casey Stengel and Catcher Ralph Houk $150 each.

It All Started Yesterday
It all started in the eighth inning of yesterday's game when Johnny Pesky of Boston came roaring home from third base on a squeeze play. At the moment, the teams were deadlocked for the American League lead and the game was tied at 6-6. Pesky hit the dirt as Houk took the throw from Tommy Henrich, who fielded Bobby Doerr's bunt. Grieve, the plate umpire, called the runner safe. That touched off the most spirited protest launched by the Yankees all season. With no further scoring in the game, it put the Red Sox a full game in front with five games to play.

And even after Harridge reached his decision today, the Yankees refused to take things lying down. While his team was beating the Philadelphia Athletics 3-1, to stay in the thick of the race, General Manager George Weiss issued this statement:

Believes Prexy Wrong
"The management of the New York Yankees believes that the fines levied against Manager Stengel and two players for the debate with Umpire William Grieve following a decision at home plate were as hasty and erroneous as was the umpire's decision."

Burt Shotton Denies Branca Is On Auction Block

New York, Sept. 27.—(P)—Brooklyn Manager Burt Shotton today praised Pitcher Ralph Branca and denied reports that the young Dodger right-hander would be traded.

As the Dodgers prepared to leave for Boston where they meet the Braves tomorrow, Shotton denied he was "down" on Branca for alleged pop-off remarks against him following Brooklyn's 3-3 defeat to Philadelphia.

In Sunday's game when Branca was removed after pitching seven excellent innings against the Phils. He had a 3-1 lead and had struck out nine batters when Jack Banta took over in the eighth and promptly blew the ball game, yielding four runs.

Shotton claimed that Branca showed him a blister on his pitching hand and that Catcher Roy Campanella had informed him that "Branca has lost his stuff."

Branca claims he wanted to continue and that he was removed before showing Shotton his blister. Campanella, in the middle, said later that he told Shotton Branca had only his fast ball left and no curve.

Cubs Thwart Reds Cellar Bid; Take 5-4 Loss In Cincy

Cincinnati, Sept. 27.—(P)—Eight place in the National league was beckoning to the Cincinnati Reds today but they rallied for the two runs in the last of the ninth that brought a 5 to 4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

A Chicago victory would have dropped the Reds into a tie with the Cubs for the coal hole spot.

Virgil Stallcup was the hero of the piece—his fourth hit of the game driving in Danny Litwiler with the winning run with two out. It enabled Ken Raffensberger to rack up his 17th pitching victory of the campaign as against the same number of defeats.

The Reds clubbed Dutch Leonard, Johnny Schmitz and Warren Hacker for 17 hits but they wasted scoring opportunities like a spendthrift. Raffensberger allowed only eight hits.

Schmitz was the losing flinger. Chicago . . . 200 002 000—4 8 1 Cincinnati . . . 100 200 002—5 17 0 Leonard, Schmitz (1), Hacker (9) and Schaeffing; Raffensberger and Cooper, Howell (8). Winning pitcher—Raffensberger; losing pitcher—Schmitz.

Jacksonville football stadiums, the scene of much action last weekend, will be completely empty for this week's round of grid hostilities. Local fans who want to see their favorites romp to victory and glory will have to travel many miles to see our far-ranging gridgers.

Al Miller's Bluejays huskies journey to Elmhurst where they'll tangle with Principia's footballers in a Saturday afternoon tussle. I.S.D.'s Tiger Eleven, still looking for a win after suffering a 26-2 lacing in the hands of Carrollton last week, travel to Petersburg on Saturday.

Bob Kraushaar takes his winless Crimson Eleven to Quincy for a bout with the Blue Devils Friday night. Closest battle involving a Jacksonville champion will be the Routt-Franklin six-man game at Waverly Saturday afternoon. Paul Stroud's red-clad charges are currently riding high on a one-game win streak in the 2-O six-man grid conference.

Springfield preppers are giving their newly christened Memorial football stadium a workout. Four capital city eleven plays in two new park this weekend, in two intra-town frays. With a capacity of 30,000 the new coliseum stands head and shoulders over anything that other central Illinois cities can boast.

If Jacksonville had such a temple for sports enthusiasts, local promoters could lay a few planks, throw a canvas over the top and henceforth our gymnasium problems would be solved.

Stan Spotts, Jacksonville, and George O'Donnell, Winchester, played in the minor league benefit baseball exhibition at Bend Sunday afternoon. The minor leaguers dumped an amateur club from Springfield 16-5. Spotts was at his shortstop post for the pros. O'Donnell, who wound up last season with the Kitty league, pitched five innings for the minor leaguers, allowing two hits and one run.

Illinois Points For Badgers This Weekend

Champaign, Ill. — Hoping his youthful charges profited by their errors in a disappointing 20-20 tie with Iowa State in the season's opener, Coach Ray Elliot today launched into stiff work to prepare the Illini for an "I" Men's Day battle with Wisconsin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Memorial Stadium.

Emphasis will be on defense during hard-work sessions this week as Elliot seeks a combination which can function smoothly especially to guard against passes. The Illini coach contemplates no major shifts in personnel, feeling that many of the errors made in the Iowa State opener could be charged to inexperience.

Scout Leo Johnson reported Wisconsin's "much improved" club over that of last year which beat Illinois 20-16 at Madison. The Badgers are sound defensively and showed excellent speed and good passing from Lisle Blackburn and Bob Petruska in routing Marquette 41-0.

Wisconsin Superior To Iowa
"I'd rate Wisconsin superior to Iowa State in manpower, squad condition, running, and throwing," Johnson said. "In view of our game with the Cyclones, Illinois definitely ranks as the under dog this week."

One encouraging note from the Illini camp will be return to form of Walt Kersulis and Tony Klimek, first-string ends who played only briefly last week. Kersulis has recovered completely from an attack of tonsillitis and Klimek's knee is sound again.

Joe McCarthy Unveils Monument To Hack Wilson

Martinsburg, W. Va., Sept. 27.—(P)—Some of baseball's famed old timers stood by silently today as Joe McCarthy unveiled a simple monument at the grave of Hack Wilson, the old rowdy boy with the big bat. They gathered in a corner of Rosedale cemetery in front of a tapered granite block about 30 inches square at the base and ten feet high.

On it were crossed bats and a baseball, and a simple inscription: "One of baseball's immortals, Lewie R. (Hack) Wilson, rest here." McCarthy took time out for the ceremony despite the frenzied pennant race his Boston Red Sox are locked in with the New York Yankees.

McCarthy managed the Chicago Cubs when Wilson was belting the ball and spending his big money on big times. It was in 1930 that Hack hit 55 homers, still the National league record, and batted in 190 runs, still the record for both big leagues.

In the crowd were Charley Grimm, long-time manager of the Cubs; John Schulte and Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, who played with Wilson as Cubs; Nick Altrock, and Bill (Wee Willie) Sherdel.

Football Briefs

Irish Have Heavy Drill
South Bend, Ind., Sept. 27.—(P)—Notre Dame's football squad today engaged in its final heavy drill of the week before departing tomorrow for the game with Washington's Huskies at Seattle Saturday.

The knee injury suffered by End Leon Hart against Indiana was reported still irritable. Burns said Guard Frank Johnson, sidelined several weeks with a leg injury, may have trouble getting into game shape by Saturday. Other injuries include Center Gerry Groom's wrenched knee and End Bill Wightkin's ailing knee.

The Irish will leave for Seattle on the Olympian Hiawatha from Chicago at 3:30 p.m. (CST) tomorrow.

Illini Shake Up Defense
Champaign, Ill., Sept. 27.—(P)—Coach Ray Elliot shook up his defensive alignment today and drove Illinois through its longest football scrimmage since early in the month.

End Tony Klimek, Center Bill Vohaska and Tackles Chuck Ulrich and Al Tate took part in both offensive and defensive drills against Wisconsin formations.

Volights Looks For H. B.

The Wildcat head mentor alternated between Richle Athan and Dick Alban as the football squad stressed pass defense and blocking assignments. In today's drill a Northwestern "B" team ran Pittsburgh plays against a defensive unit. The Wildcats met Pittsburgh Saturday.

Yanks Keep Flag Hopes Alive; Beat Athletics 3 To 1

New York, Sept. 27.—(P)—Still boiling with a charge that Umpire Bill Grieve "blew" the big decision in yesterday's game with Boston, the New York Yankees kept their pennant hopes alive today by defeating Philadelphia, 3-1, for Vic Raschi's 20th victory.

The win left the Yanks a half game back of the leading Red Sox who play Washington tonight. Depending on the result of the Sox game, the Yanks will be either tied for first or one game back by midnight.

The victory pulled the tribe within two games of third place Detroit in American league standings. Cleveland . . . 100 000 011—3 9 2 Chicago . . . 010 001 000—2 9 2 Garcia, Benton (8) and Hegan; Haefner, Judson (9) Cain (9) and Malone. Winning pitcher—Benton; losing pitcher—Haefner.

VIC RASCHI

Shortly after hearing that outfielder Cliff Mape had been fined $200 and Manager Casey Stengel and Ralph Houk, $150 each, for yesterday's argument with Grieve, the Yanks ripped into Dick Fowler for three big runs in the third inning.

After that outburst they were cooled off by little Bobby Shantz, Mr. Mack's pint-sized lefty, who allowed only one hit in a superb relief job over 5 2/3 innings.

Raschi, the Yanks' first 20-game winner since Spud Chandler in 1946, allowed only four hits in a workmanlike job. It was his third try at the American's 20 club and he finally made it to join Boston's Ellis Kinder and Mel Parnell and Cleveland's Bobby Lemon.

The Yanks cashed in on Dick Fowler's sudden wild streak in the third. Phil Rizzuto pumped a single to center. Then Fowler, a 14 game winner, walked Jim Delsing and Bobby Brown to fill the bases. He passed Henrich forcing in a run. Yogi Berra's two run single to center brought Shantz ambling to the scene.

Philadelphia 000 001 000—1 4 0 New York . . . 003 000 003—3 4 0 Fowler, Schantz (3) and Guerra; Raschi and Berra. Losing pitcher—Fowler.

Unknown Blasts Homer To Whip Redbirds 6-4; Bums Trail One-Game

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27.—(P)—A Schoendienst dropped the third sacker's throw in a double play attempt, and all hands were safe. Westlake was cut down at the plate on Monty Basgall's grounder, but Munger walked Clyde McCullough and Stan Rojek to force in a run.

Saffell then slammed a 2-1 pitch into the left field stands to clean the bases. By Innings: St. Louis . . . 000 100 030—4 3 1 Pittsburgh . . . 050 000 10X—6 8 1 Munger, Wilks (2), Pollet (4), Martin (7), Brazle (8) and D. Rice; Werle, Lombardi (8) and McCullough. HHR: Pittsburgh—Saffell; winning pitcher—Werle; losing pitcher—Munger.

The paralyzing blow came in the second inning with George "Red" Munger on the mound and paved the way for the Redbirds' crushing 6-4 defeat at the hands of the sixth place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The costly setback, St. Louis' sixth in 10 starts here, sliced a half game off the Cards' first place lead over the idle Brooklyn Dodgers who now trail by only one game. Thus the Brooks now can tie for first place provided they win all their remaining four games while the Cards drop one of their four.

Willie Werle, 27-year-old southpaw from San Francisco, who only 11 days ago handed the Dodgers a disastrous defeat, repeated the trick against the Cards. However, a fine relief chore by Vic Lombardi, a Dodger Castoff, helped Werle register his 12th triumph and his first of the season over the Redbirds.

All five runs for the Bucs in the hectic second inning were unearned. Wally Westlake led off the frame with a single and should have been erased on Pete Castiglione's bounce to Tommy Glaviano, but Red

Someone to Love
By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART
Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Tod Duncan has married Jenny Polaska "on the rebound" after his divorce. The wealthy Liz Conover, eloped with another man. He has told Jenny and tries to convince himself that he is not in love with her. Liz Conover, who had planned to live. Tod suggests that they live with his mother, sister Harriet and brother Joe. Jenny's friends advise against it. But Jenny goes with Tod. At the first meeting with Tod's family, Mr. Duncan tells Jenny "Tod made a perfect fool of himself getting married to spite Liz Conover."

VIII
ONE day Jenny asked Tod how much the apartment was costing him.

"I don't ask you what you do with your money, Jenny!" he said, frowning.

"But Tod, we ought to pool our resources. You are going back to college this fall. That'll take money. You said Markwood costs more than the State University. I asked about this apartment. I asked when we moved in you said your mother was looking for something less expensive."

"She is looking. Places are hard to find." They were in the tiny bedroom. Jenny was sure the rest of the family could hear them. She lowered her voice. "Are we going to go on living here, with no privacy and no feeling of permanence?"

"What's wrong with this apartment? I'm paying $150 a month for it. It ought to be good enough for anybody. That's quite a chunk of money!"

"Of course it is, darling, and that's the point I'm trying to make. When you quit your job and start your school, how are you going to pay that much? I only make $40 at the shop."

"I've been thinking about it." "Why doesn't Joe get a job?" "Why hasn't he?" "He's been trying to get him on at the tire factory. I spoke to her about Joe the other day. if you must know." He walked to the window now and stood there sullenly looking into the darkened street. His broad shoulders sagged a little and his hair was rumpled.

THE sound of traffic floated up from the street below. The muted blast of Joe's radio came out of the living room, and water was running in the bathroom adjoining, where Harriet was washing out some things.

"If we live here this winter I don't know how you'll be able to study," Jenny said, "and besides—I just hate it!" She really hadn't meant to tell him that, but it had burst out before she thought.

"For heaven's sake," Tod cried in exasperation, as he turned about, "this heat is bad enough without your needling me all the time! Don't you suppose I hate it too?" he shouted. "I despise the cheapness of it all, the whole tawdry commonplace way we live! There's no fun in it anywhere. This wasn't the kind of life I planned to have. I hate my job, this apartment, having nothing to look forward to!"

Jenny stared at him in shocked disbelief, and then she whispered hoarsely. "Go on—say it." She clung with one hand to the foot of the hideous waterfall bed. "You're sorry?"

Jenny's brown eyes swam with quick tears.

Sunday morning she heard Ma talking about it to Tod.

"Sometimes it's 11 o'clock, and she don't say a word about where she's been or nothin'. And I sometimes wonder when she says she's stayin' all night with that Nina."

"Ma, cut it out. Jenny's not that sort."

"Little you know about what sort she is."

"Cut it out. I said! If Jenny wants to go some place in the evening—"

"Mark my words, you'll find out what kind she is!"

Jenny had slept late, but she threw on her robe and came into the kitchen where they were eating breakfast.

TOD shoved back his chair and came around to Jenny, put his arm across her shoulders and said grinning, "Hello, sleepyhead!" He pulled out a chair for her, got the coffee pot and poured her coffee. Jenny felt her anger melting. She had intended having it out with Ma and Tod then and there, but the way Tod bustled around looking after her comfort, and the way Ma got up and fussed into the other room, made it impossible.

Then came a Thursday evening in August, and Tod was not due home until Friday. Nina had suggested that she and Jenny really slurge—have dinner at a nice place and then take in a new show. Jenny even had a new dress, a sheer black crepe she bought cheaply from Max because the summer was almost over. And she had found a hat to go with it, a Dutch bonnet with a lace brim.

They were to dine at Greenbriar, the swankiest place in town, soft lights, dreamy music and wonderful cocktails. They had just been seated when Jenny, happening to glance toward the door, saw Tod.

She thought she must be mistaken, because Tod wasn't due home until the following day. But it was Tod all right, and he went directly to a table in the far corner. Liz was at the table.

Nina saw Jenny's face. "Jenny!" Jenny didn't answer. All she could think of was to get out before Tod saw her.

Cupid Shows An Indirect Approach To Romantic Ends

Chicago, Sept. 27 (AP)—Cupid demonstrated today that there's something to be said for the indirect approach in romance.

It looked for a time as though the mischievous sprite was off his rocker in handling the case of Mrs. Palmira Ardunini, 50, a widow, and James Novl, 50, a plumber.

Novl's courtship of Mrs. Ardunini had been unimpeded. She told him so early this year and suggested that they be merely distant friends thereafter.

After the romance rift, however, a strange rash of calls by policemen and firemen at the 3304 Douglas boulevard address of Mrs. Ardunini developed.

In the middle of the night, she was awakened by firefighters who explained they were sent to put out a blaze in the basement.

Or the patrol wagon would come around, and officers would ask her to call off a non-existent noisy party.

Mrs. Ardunini was incensed. On Sept. 10, she signed a complaint against Novl charging he had impeded the official visits, thereby violating the ordinance against disorderly conduct.

But today, when she and Novl appeared before Judge Harold P. O'Connell, Mrs. Ardunini didn't prosecute.

"We're getting married Saturday," she explained.

Woman Involved In Plane Bombing To Be Indicted

Quebec, Que., Sept. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Arthur Pitre, friend of the Quebec jeweler accused of plotting to kill his wife by blowing up a passenger plane, was charged today with attempted suicide.

She was charged after city and provincial police questioned her for a second time about her part in the plane crash two weeks ago that killed 23 persons, including three New York executives of the Kennecott Copper Corporation.

Royal Canadian Mounted police said three days ago that she had admitted carrying a package to Quebec airport the day the plane crashed. Police believe that package contained a home-made bomb which destroyed the aircraft, but Mrs. Pitre has been quoted as saying she believed the package contained a religious statue.

Charged with murdering his wife, Rita, by arranging for the bomb to be placed aboard the Canadian Pacific Airways plane, is J. Albert Guay, a Quebec jeweler.

Suspicious Men Also Suspicious

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 27 (AP)—Two detectives were sent out last night to investigate a suspicious-looking man standing in an alley.

They found the man was the watchman at an industrial plant. He told them that for half an hour he had been keeping an eye on a suspicious-looking man at the other end of the alley.

"Fine," said the detectives. "Keep it up. We'll circle and get him from behind."

They did.

Suspicious-looking man No. 2 explained:

He is a watchman for another plant and for half an hour had been keeping an eye on a suspicious-looking man at the other end of the alley.

Siltwater, Okla. — Martha Williamson of Jacksonville, Ill., has been pledged by the Oklahoma A. & M. College chapter of Pi Beta Phi, national social sorority.

BADLY NEEDED: ONE NEW STOVE

Cooking for a riverboat crew is a pretty good job, says Mrs. Catherine Zimmerman, who is in charge of the galley aboard the new towboat Illini.

"Especially if I had a decent stove," she added.

Mrs. Zimmerman had good luck, though, with the tuna fish casserole she's holding. The thermostat on the oil-burning stove must be out of kilter. One time its gets away too hot; the next time it's only lukewarm. The biscuits she made for breakfast were soggy, didn't brown.

Master Joseph Bandy agrees the stove is poor. He's promised to have it fixed, or get a new one, "just as soon as we can." Millions of housewives have heard the identical statement billions of times.

Rivermen are big eaters, but they don't get fat. The crisp river air whets appetites, but 12 hours of work every day in the week burns up a lot of energy.

Mrs. Zimmerman makes hot bread twice a day. Her supper menu included cold roast beef, cold baked ham, sliced tomatoes, bread and butter, lima beans, whole kernel corn, mashed potato cakes, olives, pickles, chocolate pie, blueberry cobbler, coffee, iced tea and milk.

Rivermen are heavy coffee consumers and the pot is busy around the clock. When the cook isn't on duty it's the junior deckhand's job to make coffee and serve it around. A special blast on the air horn tells him it's coffee time.

Steering A Boat At Night 'Easy,' Says The Pilot

By Cecil Tendick

Running the Illinois river at night is simple and easy, says Fleet Master M. A. Huddleston of Memphis.

"All a pilot has to do is sit up here and wonder if he's going to make it."

Skimming down the dark stream at 11 miles an hour is a rather eerie experience for a landlubber. You feel you're going 60 miles an hour; the river looks so narrow. The willow-lined banks seem to bump together just a little ways ahead.

Captain Huddleston had been up, and working, since 3:30 a.m. Diesel engines which have run continuously for days need a lot of attention when they're finally stopped. The captain had helped in the engine room all day, now at 8:30 p.m. he was piloting the craft while Captain Joe Bandy and the deckhands were finishing the job of using steel cable and forearm-thick hemp rope to lace together the six empty gasoline barges.

Searchlights Big Help

The captain handled the two powerful searchlights to stab into the enveloping darkness. Now he'd pick up a landmark, now one of the 110 feet long boat trembled from the vibrations of the three engines as they churned out 2,200 horsepower to spin three giant propellers.

The barges, nearly an acre of steel plate, skimmed the water like six peacock ducks swimming in ranks. They were riding high, nearly ten feet out of the water. A strong crosswind makes them a real headache for the pilot.

Today's river pilots don't brag on themselves much. "We have a lot of help now," they say.

Admire "Old Boys"

The floating buoys which outline the river channel are wonderful traffic guides. Blinking lights are definite landmarks. The strong searchlights illuminate any desired section of the river. Information concerning the water stages are received by radio four times daily.

Some rivermen declare they "don't know how the old boys did it. But they did."

Captain Bandy and the deckhands completed their work in about 40 minutes. He relieved Capt. Huddleston, who went below to "clean up" in the upper, compact bathroom before he laid down to sleep. The bunks are deluxe, equipped with inner-spring, foam rubber mattresses and immaculate sheets. Altogether the new Illini, owned by Illinois farmers, has four bath-rooms: one for the master and one for the deckhands and one for the cook and her assistant.

Past Copperas Creek

The writer had gotten aboard the Illini at Kingston Mines, 17 miles downstream from Peoria. Yards along the landing was an important coaling station for steamboats. Its now the site of the petroleum products terminal owned by the Illinois Farm Supply company.

Soon after Capt. Bandy took over he rolled past Copperas Creek. The former state dam and lock located there has been abandoned since 1933. The Ohio Boat company has its Illinois river headquarters there. It's equipped with a dry dock and extensive barge repair facilities.

The entrance to Clear Lake was spotted seven miles further down. Two miles more we breasted the lights of the Liverpool coal dock, lighted by the sun. Coal is a mighty

Dr. L. G. Heuston Speaker At Chapel Services Tuesday

Dr. Leslie G. Heuston, addressed the MacMurray College chapel Tuesday morning at Grace Methodist church. Dr. Heuston is the pastor of the Central Christian church.

Dr. Heuston addressed the students and faculty on the subject of "When Is a Person Educated?" His answer was, "One never really becomes educated because the process goes on as long as we live. There is no final curriculum of education." But there are certain marks of education and the pioneer who sets the pace and gives the clue to all is Jesus of Nazareth. Dr. Heuston set forth several marks which come from the example of Christ.

One such mark is that capacity to "feel at home" with the universe. There must be a sense of belonging and of feeling at ease with books, people, or whatever one's chosen field encompasses.

Another mark is one of mental curiosity. We need to discover things through curiosity, and then take these discoveries and learn to use them, Dr. Heuston emphasized.

Frosted Pastures May Be Poisonous To Sheep, Cattle

Urbana—With frosty, fall nights coming on, a University of Illinois veterinarian yesterday warned livestock raisers about plants poisoning their animals.

Dr. R. P. Link, College of Veterinary Medicine, says Sudan grass, sorghum, and Johnson grass may produce prussic acid poison if they are stunted by frost. As little as five pounds of the poison-bearing grass may cause the death of cattle; and one pound is enough to kill a sheep.

In checking for frost damage, watch closely for plants that have been stunted and then have started to grow again. Dark green growth is usually the most dangerous.

If you suspect that your pasture contains poison, you may be money ahead by keeping your cattle or sheep out of it. But if your livestock needs the forage try it out on a low-value animal before offering it to the rest of the herd.
